Natura 60. The world's first aviary for barn production with inspection aisle free of litter, hens and manure!

Natura60 is THE new generation of aviaries for layers in barn production. The design concept integrates reduced management effort, significantly improving working conditions whilst at the same time increasing production reliability. Natura 60 features some very unique characteristics – which make for some very substantial advantages:

- ideal stocking densities achieved at a building height of 2.40 m
- the aviary can easily be locked for the familiarisation phase to provide the hens with a perfect start into the laying phase and effectively prevent floor eggs
- manageable group sizes thanks to partitions that are installed every 2.41 m
- every second aisle remains free of litter, hens and manure, thus making the system perfectly accessible
- gentle egg transport: only one level
- system eggs can easily be collected
